

GLENDALE DRY PARADE

CITY STAGES IMPRESSIVE DEMONSTRATION IN FAVOR OF "CALIFORNIA DRY"

After the most impressive demonstration Monday night in favor of "California Dry," there can be little doubt that Glendale will give a sweeping vote in favor of the extinction of the saloon in this state. No fewer than 1034 people out of a population of 8000 turned out on foot and in automobiles to testify their adherence to the cause of morality and decency.

Mattison B. Jones, marshal of the parade, assisted by four aides, got his companies in line about 7:30 and the parade, starting from Glendale avenue, was joined by the various contingents in good order and proceeded down Broadway to Brand and thence to Second street, where the parade turned, crossed to the west side of the street and proceeded south to Fifth street, to the high school, where it dismissed.

It was ascertained that 760 persons marched on foot; that 274 were in 50 autos and floats.

The chief of police and three mounted officers headed the parade, while Marshal Mattison B. Jones and his aides, H. P. Medcalf, Frank L. Muhleman, H. M. Miller and W. P. MacMullen, were active at all parts of the line of march.

Among the striking features of the parade were 50 nurses in uniform from the Sanitarium. This section was headed by Clarence H. Jones, X-ray operator at the Sanitarium. About 150 Adventists, who were unable to attend the big parade in Los Angeles Saturday, which is the Sabbath of that church, were also in line.

All the churches were in evidence. Casa Verdugo Methodist Episcopal church sent a delegation of 32. West Glendale had a large float, with a bevy of nice-looking young ladies, clad in white, who sang "dry" campaign songs and added to the hilarity of the parade by their placard, "Cheer Up, Wets; The Worst Is Yet to Come." There were two other floats in the parade sent out by the local W. C. T. U. organizations, which were placarded with many striking mottoes.

The evangelical churches of the city were all represented, both by bodies of marchers and by members in the autos. A company of Boy Scouts from the First Congregational church, to the number of 35, made a good showing under the direction of Scoutmaster Guthrie, giving several exhibitions of drill as they marched.

At the close of the parade a large section of the paraders attended the meeting in the high school auditorium, which was addressed by S. W. Odell, chairman of the Southern California Department of the Campaign Federation. The Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Presbyterian church presided; the Rev. B. D. Snudden gave the opening prayer. There were also on the platform the Rev. E. H. Willisford of the First Congregational church and Elder G. H. Snyder of the Seventh Day Adventist church.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Margaret Brown celebrated her tenth birthday, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Brown, 116 North Kenwood street, Saturday afternoon. The house was decorated in Hallowe'en style in honor of the occasion. The favors were little witches cunningly fashioned from candy. In the center of the table was a large pumpkin from which favors were drawn. Appropriate Hallowe'en refreshments were served and the children had a good time with old-fashioned and seasonable games. Those present were:

PALACE GRAND TO GIVE ELECTION RETURNS

The management of the Palace Grand theater have made arrangements to give Western Union wire service of election returns during the second show and up until midnight. In addition to the election returns an exceptionally strong program will be given, featuring Douglas Fairbanks in "Manhattan Madness" and Billie Burke in the first series of "Gloria's Romance."

SCHOOL CHILDREN LEARN HOW TO HANDLE LIBRARY—NEW MAGAZINES

There is little but routine business these days at the library board. Until a new civic budget makes provision for library extension there will be little else to transact. The meeting of the board on Thursday morning at 9:30 was attended by Dr. Bryant, chairman; Mrs. Freeman Kelley, W. W. McElroy and Mr. Henderson. Mrs. John Braly was absent through indisposition.

There has been immediate response to the library that they may receive practical instruction in the use of the catalogue. Miss Edith Tyler of the Columbus avenue school brought her class over Friday and Mrs. Danford gave them practical demonstration of how to use the library. The class was remarkable for its wonderful discipline and the profound attention it gave to the librarian. The children seemed to learn very readily all about the catalogues.

The librarian also told them of the ten general divisions into which the non-fiction books in the library are divided. Teachers who wish their classes to acquire this knowledge should go to the library, as Miss Tyler has done, and their classes will profit largely by the experience.

Mrs. Danford took the children round the shelves and explained the alphabetical arrangement of the fiction works and also instructed them in the use of the reference magazines.

The librarian will publish shortly in The Glendale Evening News a list of books that have been purchased since the last list published. The printed bulletins containing the same information may shortly be had at the desk.

Quite a number of magazines that have failed to satisfy have been dropped from the list. Some of these have ceased publication. A number of new magazines have been added to the list. They are: The Musician, Opera Magazine, Popular Educator, Something to Do, Storyteller's Magazine, System, The Wireless Age, Aircraft, Baseball, California Outlook, Current Events, The Dramatist, Kindergarten Review, Correct English.

CLASSES IN SPANISH

Miss Neva Vesey, principal of the Glendale Commercial school, Cole & Damerell block, Brand boulevard, has made arrangements to have Spanish taught in her establishment. The Commercial school has been growing rapidly and there are demands from the pupils and also from others for tuition in various subjects that have not been handled hitherto.

In consequence Miss Vesey has arranged with Madame Claudina Garfias de Alvarez, a teacher of Spanish of some standing, to take up classes in her school. Madame Garfias de Alvarez has been a teacher of Spanish in Mrs. Whentoff's school in the Auditorium, Los Angeles, for five years. She uses the conversational methods of teaching which have been found to give excellent results.

Madame Alvarez will give two nights a week, Tuesday and Friday, between the hours of 7 and 8. Commercial work will be taught in connection with the Spanish class. It is certain that after the war is over and Mexico is pacified that there will be many opportunities both in Mexico and South America for American stenographers and typists with a knowledge of Spanish. Already quite a good sized class has been formed and more are expected.

WONDERS OF THE BODY

DR. HARROWER LECTURES ON "INTERNAL SECRETIONS" AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Yesterday morning Dr. Henry R. Harrower gave the second of his series of lectures before some 400 of the high school students and a number of outsiders. The subject was "The Internal Secretions."

Dr. Harrower made clear the difference between the internal and external secretions, the latter being substances secreted by various parts of the body into some cavity of the body as, for example, the saliva into the mouth, the stomach juices, the bile, etc. Internal secretions, on the other hand, are produced in a series of organs called the ductless glands and pass directly into the blood through which they reach the different tissues of the body, there to accomplish their chemical effects.

These internal secretions are essential to health, since they regulate growth and the chemical changes known as "metabolism" (the burning up of foods and their transformation into heat and energy). Besides this the somewhat intangible thing known as "constitution" is dependent in a large measure upon the normal work of the internal secretory organs, and an individual who "catches everything" is lacking in some vital element, just as the other individual whom the doctor humorously referred to as those "you could not kill with an ax" were quite normal in this respect.

The thyroid gland situated in the front of the neck is the most important of these internal secretory organs and when by a whim of nature a child is born with no thyroid at all, its growth is stunted, its appearance is characteristic, and its mentality is very much below the normal. In fact, a "child" of 18 or 20 years without a thyroid may have the physical and mental development of a 2-year-old baby.

There are all grades of activity in the thyroid gland. An individual may be suffering from a slight diminution in the work of this gland which may seriously alter the chemistry of their bodies and cause numerous disturbances both physical and mental. Excessive action is also to be considered. Besides growth and mentality, Dr. Harrower showed that the formation of the blood was largely controlled by these remarkable organs and hence any consideration of severe blood disease like anemia involves a great deal more than the mere giving of iron and other well known "blood building" remedies.

There are numerous other glands of internal secretion, several of which are also well known in physiology for their external secretions. Among these last are the liver, pancreas or sweetbread, and small intestine. In fact the first understood internal secretion or hormone from the Greek, (I arouse, or set in motion) was secretin, which is a remarkable digestive stimulant produced in the walls of the duodenum or the upper part of the small intestine.

The pituitary gland, lying at the base of the brain, also has much to do with the regulation of growth and development. Giants very often are found to have an increase in the work of this gland, for a part of its function is to regulate the growth of bones and with too much of the hormone from the pituitary the bones grow too fast and too large, while, on the other hand, with too little the bones are improperly developed and not as hard and strong as they should be.

All of these glands are intimately related the one to the other and their chemicals are produced in such accurate proportions that the aggregate maintains what is called "the hormone balance." Disturbances of one of the glands of this circle causes corresponding disturbances in other glands thus intimately related. Hence the consideration of derangements due to obvious disturbances of, say, the thyroid gland is not complete and as profitable as it might be unless the whole balance is studied.

This subject is comparatively new, and the medical profession is just beginning to appreciate the extreme importance of these internal secretions and their influence upon health and disease. While there is not so much that a high school student could do should they appreciate the presence of a disturbance in this part of the chemistry of the body, it is well to know as much as possible about the workings of the human mechanism and to realize the importance of derangements of the chemical or hormone balance of the body so that proper steps may be taken to remedy any defects as early as possible.

Many children might grow both in stature and mental power if it was understood that they were lacking

REPUBLICAN PARADE

SUPPORTERS OF G. O. P. MAKE GREAT SHOWING WITH 60 AUTOS AND BANNERS

In response to the call of the Republicans of the city, the supporters of the G. O. P. turned out in striking array, Monday, November 6. Starting from the high school the parade, headed by Chief of Police Herald, and others of the force, marched through the city by the usual parade route. The Glendale Municipal band, under the management of C. D. Furst, discoursed eloquently patriotic and popular music. Stretched out along Brand the parade extended from below Broadway to well beyond First street.

Sixty autos were in line. Following the band was a cleverly dressed and made up impersonator of Charles E. Hughes. A crowd of boys wearing Hughes pictures surrounded a donkey, the representative of the Democratic party, attached to a transfer wagon, which bore an announcement that it was ready to move the party March, 1917.

The Grand Army float was very conspicuous with its veterans and its motto, "We Helped Lincoln and We Now Stand for Hughes." Other mottoes were "We Want a President with a Spine," "Why Wasn't Huerta Made to Answer for the Murder of American Citizens?—We Know." Another motto announced "Hughes Means Peace, Protection and Prosperity." "Why Didn't Huerta Salute the Flag?—We Know."

Everywhere along the route the parade was greeted with enthusiasm. The spirit of the whole affair was excellent. Attorney W. E. Evans was marshal of the parade and Oma Fish was assistant manager.

ELECTION RETURNS

R. H. Brown, manager of the San Fernando Valley Home Telephone company, and who also is a good Elk, has placed a leased wire in the Elks' building at the corner of Broadway and Brand and election returns will be received tonight as promptly and as accurately as at any point in the United States.

By means of a stereopticon the vote will be cast on a screen on a building on the south side of Broadway so that people assembled on the street may read it. The Elks will keep open house to the public and will be pleased to have all who can be accommodated make their rooms headquarters for getting election reports.

Manager Brown is also giving free election return reports at the Burbank and Lankershim exchanges.

DEATH OF MELVIN RICE

Mr. Melvin Lewis Rice, who formerly lived at 411 Moore avenue, Tropic, passed away at 4 p. m. Monday, November 6, at Banning, Cal., where he had gone in hopes of benefit from change of climate. Mr. Rice leaves to mourn his loss, besides the widow, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Rice, of 764 South Central avenue, Glendale, and a sister, Mrs. D. B. Pingree, 107 North Jackson street, Glendale. Funeral services will be held in Tropic Thursday. Notice later.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Wednesday; some fog along the coast; light westerly winds.

In certain of these substances, for in the present advancing stage of our knowledge it has been found possible to secure from similar glands of animals the identical chemical substances that may be missing in the individual and to use them to replace what nature has omitted to produce. This is called organotherapy and it is amazing to note in a particular case how great a change may be produced in the features, form and functions of an individual who for years may have been lacking in certain of these hormones and to whom they are administered under suitable supervision.

As one contemplates these added mysteries of the workings of the body, one cannot help recall the words of the Psalmist, that man is "fearfully and wonderfully made." Dr. Harrower kept his audience spellbound and it is evident that the attendance at the third lecture, to be held next Monday morning, will be still greater, for the third subject will be "The Relation of the Emotions to Health and Disease," in which it is expected that the influence of the mind upon the body will be explained from the standpoint of chemistry and the internal secretions. This lecture will be given in the high school auditorium Monday morning, next, November 13, and it is open to all who care to attend.

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO

Owing to the conflicting interests in Mexico and the interested parties who are anxious to see such conditions there as favor themselves it is difficult to get a complete perspective on the exact state of that country at present. There are those who wish the United States to believe that Carranza has no hold on the country and that Villa is making headway every day. There are also those who maintain that normal conditions are being rapidly restored.

Carranza and his supporters are the optimists. They declare that they are gradually making gains throughout the country and that before long it will be demonstrable that the majority of the people favor their regime. At the same time there are others who maintain that Carranza is a total failure. They say that he has shown himself absolutely weak and untrustworthy and that under the weak rule of the de facto government Villa has returned to the field with new strength and has defeated the de facto signal.

It became very plain that there are powers at work to create trouble and misunderstanding between the United States and Mexico, when the joint commission that is at present seeking to find a common ground on which the two countries can get together for the pacification of Mexico and the complete settlement of all the disputes between them, examined statements made concerning both sides and found them groundless.

Interviews attributed to General Carranza and calculated to offend the susceptibilities of the Americans were shown to be absolutely forgeries. In similar manner statements attributed to Luis Cabrera, head of the Mexican commissioners, in which he criticized the American officials for alleged laxity in administration of the neutrality laws were repudiated.

From what the commissioners say there appears to have been considerable progress made in Mexico toward more stable conditions and the establishment of peace. It is stated that the churches have been able to open their doors in the greater number of cities and villages throughout the land. That, it is argued, gives the lie to the statements of the Villistas to the effect that Carranza has no authority in Mexico.

It is also asserted that schools have been multiplied throughout the country and that civil government has been established in most of the cities. The restoration of the municipal government in most of the cities has gone hand in hand with these improvements.

At the same time it is difficult for Carranza to explain away the activity of Villa, who is credited with having well on to 10,000 men well armed and equipped and to be terrorizing the whole province of Chihuahua. This is manifestly a very exaggerated report. Villa has undoubtedly a compact body of men but they do not amount to even 5000. The likelihood however is that seeing how popular Villa is with the whole country where he is regarded as a national hero on account of his defiance of the United States, the various parties, seeing no possibility of individual success, may unite in supporting him.

That seems to be the weak point in the Carranza armor. Carranza cannot apparently put down Villa, neither can he suppress Zapata. The United States under these conditions has a very difficult problem before it in attempting to remedy matters.

THE WORKINGMEN'S BAR

(Contributed by Mrs. M. E. Vanorman, West Glendale.)

One day as I rode through the town on a car,
This sign met my vision, "The Workingmen's Bar."

It was over the door of a gaudy saloon,
And workmen were gathering for the hour was noon.

We had halted a space for the traffic to pass,
And as idly I gazed through the clear crystal glass,

I saw by a flash of revealing divine
The truth of the story I read in that sign.

"The Workingmen's Bar!" how apt was the name.

A bar to his peace, to his pride, to his fame,

A bar to his manhood, his honor, his truth;

A bar to the glorious promise of youth;

A bar to the love of his children and wife;

A bar to his Maker's intent for his life.

A bar to humanity's plea in his heart;

A bar that will hold him forever apart

From friendship and honor, from duty and love,

And bar him at last from the mansions above.

Oh, ye who would keep from temptation afar,

Go not in through the door of "The Workingmen's Bar."

It will hold you, entice you and keep you within;

Bar you out from all good; bar you in with all sin.

Bar you out from society, friendship and truth;

Bar you in with the evil companions of youth.

Bar you out from endeavor, achievement, success;

Bar you in with incompetence, failure, distress.

Bar you out from the right; bar you in with the wrong;

Your sorrows increase; your miseries prolong.

And when at the last poor, helpless, forlorn,

Your money all spent and your self-

respect shorn,
Sick, friendless, forsaken, and ready to die,
Bar you out from its doors, in the gutter to lie.
God help us, we pray, to remove this vile scar,
This blot on our city, the workingmen's bar.

TROPICO METHODIST BANQUET

Tropico Methodists gathered together at a pleasant banquet, Thursday, last week. The object of the dinner was to bring together the people of the church and to plan for future work. Seventy-five persons were present. The dinner was given in the church parlors at 6 p. m. Among those who spoke interestingly of the work of the church were the pastor, the Rev. Don S. Ford, and the Rev. H. Goodsell. Miss Edna Phillips gave a most interesting report of the recent Pasadena convention, which she attended. Mr. Hyer, superintendent of the Sunday school; Mrs. P. O. Lucas, superintendent of the primary department; Mrs. Mary Cole, superintendent of the Cradle roll; Mrs. C. W. Meagher, superintendent of Missionary work, all gave speeches of intense interest. Dr. P. O. Lucas, accompanied by Mrs. W. M. Crawford, sang "Adoration." Dr. Marple and Miss Emily Copp also gave pleasing songs.

GLENDALE HORSESHOE CLUB

The Glendale Horseshoe club is keeping up its reputation as an association with players who are always to be depended on for average scores and every now and then for scores that break records or come close to that performance. At a game played on the grounds of the club Saturday four players—Denney, Cray, Porter and Head—made a combined score of 142 ringers. Denney led this excellent playing with 45 ringers, Cray and Porter had 34 each and Head 29. Denney also made 73 points in which there were seven consecutive double headers. Following is the score:

Players	Points	Ringers
Denney	73	45
Cray	37	34
Porter	34	34
Head	29	29

AT GLENDALE HIGH

Nobody would attempt to run a gas engine without first learning something about gas engines; yet many people try to run themselves with almost no knowledge of the human body.

This was the statement made yesterday by Mr. Houdyshel when he introduced Dr. H. R. Harrower, who spoke about ductless glands before a large group of science students yesterday morning in the school auditorium. Doctor Harrower is one of the world's authorities on ductless glands. He made some astonishing statements in the course of his discussion.

"Not long ago," he said, "the ductless glands were thought to be functionless. Now they are realized to be among the most important organs of the body, in spite of their small size. Knowledge of these internal secretion glands is helping just now to solve some very important problems in physiology. Their importance is just beginning to be appreciated."

The internal secretions, which are secretions into the blood, have, according to the speaker, undreamed of influences on the body. For instance, without a thyroid gland people would not grow. It seems almost impossible that the growth of the entire body should depend upon one small gland, but this is the case. Furthermore, if a human's thyroid does not secrete enough juice, as the doctor termed it, the thyroid secretions of a sheep could be made to substitute.

Dr. Harrower declared that he was not talking theory. These things, he said, had been proven and were being accepted by all physicians. The various ductless glands which secrete substances into the blood are responsible for the characteristics of races. They regulate the growth, temperament, constitution, and vitality of the human body; and work in harmony with each other in what is known as the hormone balance of the body.

This phase of therapeutics, he said, bears to physiology the same relation that radium does to chemistry. Much yet remains to be learned.

Yesterday was a lively day at Glendale high. Political arguments and hot air were thick in the special assembly held the second period—the last political meeting of the campaign. Herbert Sheuner's topic was Hughes. He talked about Wilson. Sam Durand's topic was Wilson. He talked about the Progressive party. Marian Lehman's topic was Socialism. He discussed Hughes and Wall street. Then Mr. Howe announced that there would be a straw vote at which the students might choose between the villains who had just been described.

Mr. Moyle prepared the assembly for a shock by stating that he regretted having to always be before them about unpleasant matters—it could hardly be helped. He then announced no school for the morrow. Help!

The G. O. P. parade was a grand success. By some method they got music out of the band, a feat which the Democrats failed to perform. Their parade was longer, but not quite as well prepared as that of the Wilsonites. Mr. Hughes himself was present, and that, of course, added much to the demonstration.

The result of the straw vote at the school was as follows:

Seniors
Wilson	47
Hughes	29
Juniors

Sophomores
Wilson	57
Hughes	58
Freshmen

BEAUTIFYING THE CITY

The civics committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club has designated Saturday, November 11th, tree planting day for the district west of Central avenue and south of Broadway.

The city forestry department will furnish five hundred and fifty (550) trees, which will be planted within the district named under the supervision of Mr. Marek, city forester. Mrs. Colin Cable, chairman of civics of Pacific Avenue P.-T. A., has been appointed chairman of the committee to obtain volunteer workers for the planting of these trees. It is expected that the entire five hundred and fifty trees will be planted in one day.

All those interested in tree planting in Glendale, whether living within the district or not, and who are willing to give their services to this work next Saturday, are requested to communicate with Mrs. Cable. The workers are all to meet at the Pacific avenue school at 8 o'clock. If there are those who cannot come until the afternoon, their services will be welcome at that time.

The city forestry department has other trees which will be planted in districts to be formed later. The plan is to continue this work until all our streets are lined with handsome shade trees.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. W. E. Edmonds preached Sunday morning upon "The Doctrine of Election," taking for his text I. Peter 1:1, "Elect according to the foreknowledge of God, the father."

This doctrine of election is much misunderstood. What the world needs is a positive message, something concerning the power of God unto salvation. We do not want to split hairs as to any doctrinal meaning. It is set forth here in the text as a great fact, "Ye have not chosen me but I have chosen you." Arminianism and Calvinism differed in this that the first said God had foreknowledge and the latter declared that God hath foreordained, the latter view giving the authority for the doctrine of predestination. We should bear in mind that with God there is no past or future, that with Him "One day" is as a thousand years." Of Jesus Isaiah spoke "He is despised," etc., this long before Jesus appeared in the flesh. He chose you before the foundation of the world. Do not think that he waited until you began your life on earth, for from the very beginning of things He had chosen you. God has no beginning or end; He would not be God if we could understand His great mysteries.

But man is endowed with the will to either accept or reject God; He offers us eternal life; it is for us to accept or reject it. He knows what you will do, but He does not make you do it. This law has nothing to do with inaction. If man does nothing he will possibly die, but "Whosoever will may come." Suppose it is a question of election, very well, you have the casting vote; vote yourself in. Put your faith in Jesus Christ, then it is foreordained that you will be saved. It is faith that saves and He is not willing that any should be lost. If you get to heaven it will be because of your saving faith.

KRANZ-CHAMPLAIN RECITAL

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted the pupils of Mr. Julius Kranz, violinist, and Miss Gertrude Champlain, pianiste, when they appeared in joint recital, Saturday evening, in the high school auditorium. The program, consisting of selections from Haydn, Rameau, Mendelssohn, Grieg, Saint-Saens, Kreisler and a charming "Serenade" for violin and piano, by Mr. Kranz, besides works of other standard and modern composers, was faithfully interpreted by the young players. Conscientious training in the fundamental principles that underlie sound musicianship and the sincere artistic ideals of Mr. Kranz and Miss Champlain were reflected in a marked degree by their pupils throughout the program. Another recital will be given, at an early date, by those pupils who did not appear on this occasion.

DAZEY-WELLS WEDDING

Edwin V. Dazey and Genevieve Marie Wells were united in holy matrimony, Monday evening at 6:30, by the Rev. E. H. Willisford, D. D., of the First Congregational church. The marriage was solemnized at the home of the bride, 328 South Maryland street. The bridegroom is employed in the city engineer's department of the city of Glendale. The wedding was witnessed by a small party of the immediate friends of the bride and bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Dazey have gone on a brief honeymoon and will be at home at 1418 Ivy street.

Among the painful performances that hang on the result of the presidential election is an undertaking on the part of Roy Wright and Chester Killgore, of the Electric Cleaning Works. If President Wilson is elected Chester Killgore will roll a pea by means of a crowbar from Glendale avenue to Brand. If Hughes should be elected Roy Wright will be the performer in this undertaking.

Miss Eula Richardson, 805 South Central avenue, returned last week from a pleasant month's visit in the Monterey district. Her first visit was to Salinas, where she attended the wedding of her friend, Miss Hazel Borden, who was married to Grover Hurt October 8. Afterward she went to King City and went out to a ranch near Soledad. This was a section of the famous old Spanish Arroyo Seco rancho, which has been broken up into several holdings. There she enjoyed some excellent trout fishing and quail shooting. Afterward she went to Pacific Grove, where she visited the famous Dahlia ranch, and enjoyed many a pleasant drive along the famous 17-mile drive through the pines. After that she returned to Salinas and made a trip to San Jose, going over the new San Juan grade, famous for its scenic beauty and the ingenuity with which the engineers have overcome the natural difficulties of the country.

GLENDAL BAKERIES WILL NOT RAISE PRICE OF BREAD

TROPICO TRUSTEES

TRUSTEE VESELICH TAKES OATH OF OFFICE—FALLIN GRANT- ED LICENSE

The trustees of the city of Tropic met in regular session Tuesday evening at 7:30 with President Peters in the chair. Trustees Alspach, Henry and Seal present; Boyce absent. Officers Coleman, Shaw, Watties, Mabry and Gould were also present. The minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

The regular order of business was suspended and the city clerk administered the oath of office to Stephen Veselich as trustee of the city of Tropic.

A communication was received from W. E. Demascus of Glendale asking that a taxi license be granted him to operate a taxi in Tropic. Granted.

A communication was received from A. Fallen of La Crescenta applying for an auto bus license allowing him to run his bus line through the city of Tropic. On motion of Trustee Henry the license was granted.

An application was received from Mr. Winen of the Los Angeles Goat Farm asking for a permit to sell goat's milk in the city of Tropic. The application was referred to the city health office.

The regular order of business was again suspended to take up the matter of the Larsen appeal. After considerable discussion of the matter by the city attorney and the members of the board, the appeal was denied.

Mr. Howard of Glendale addressed the board in regard to the jitney bus license.

Mr. Howard stated that inasmuch as he only picked up two or three passengers each morning as he goes to his work in Los Angeles and charged them ten cents each, that he should be allowed to operate on the taxi license, which is $4 per year, but the board seemed to think that he should be compelled to pay the regular license for through traffic, which, according to his car's rating, would be $20 per year. And so authorized the city marshal.

On account of the numerous night prowlers in the city of late, the city marshal asked that the board employ an extra night patrolman. After the matter was discussed both pro and con, the board ordered that an extra man be employed at $65 per month to serve during the pleasure of the board.

The city attorney reported that one of the valley stage lines had refused to pay the license and had decided to test the validity of the ordinance recently passed by the board.

The city clerk reported that she had communicated with Superintendent Burns of the Pacific Light and Power company in regard to turning on the lights along San Fernando boulevard. Mr. Burns informed her that some of the parts necessary for the switch had to come from the east and as soon as they arrived the lights would be put in operation.

Trustee Peters reported that so far he had been unable, with any degree of success, to secure signatures to the petition to the railroad commission asking for a rehearing on the water rate question. Trustee Peters stated that the consumers had just received their monthly bills under the new rating and their bills were so much lower that they seemed to be satisfied and refused to sign a petition to have the old rates restored.

Ordinance No. 121, for the opening and widening of Columbus street, was taken up for final reading and was adopted.

Mrs. Rich asked permission to remove two pepper trees from the parkway in front of her property on Tropic avenue. The request was granted with the understanding that she replace them with other ornamental trees.

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

There have been a number of recent accessions to the population of Casa Verdugo.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Levecke, parents of Mrs. Wm. J. Hagar, Jr., of Casa Blanca apartments, north Brand boulevard, disposed of their home and closed out business in order to remove to California and enjoy the closing years of life here, in realization of a life-long dream. They resided for many years in Homestead, Pa., where Mr. Levecke conducted the largest general mercantile establishment in the place. They were accompanied here by two daughters,
Miss Lottie Levecke and Mrs. Albert
H. Pape, with four-year-old Alberta.
The daughters expected to remain until spring, but Mrs. Pape recently received word from her husband, a leading contractor in Homestead,
that he would be unable to join them here for the holidays, as planned, on account of the flood of new business coming to him, and that she was needed home. Accordingly, Mrs.
Pape and daughter and Miss Levecke will soon return east, much disappointed at the shortness of their stay in California. Mr. and Mrs. Levecke have leased a place at 1217 Campbell street and are settling down for a permanent stay.

Mr. F. Doyle has taken a lease of
No. 1113 Melrose avenue, removing his family, comprising of Mrs. Doyle and two children, from San Fernando. Also included in the household are Mr. Doyle's mother and brother,
Mrs. Clarke and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Alston, long time residents of Casa Verdugo, have returned to the old home locality,
with its foothill ozone, after a trial
sojourn of several months in Coachella valley. Mr. Alston admits all the claims for Coachella as a date
palm, Bermuda onion and alligator pear paradise, but for a residence, he prefers a section where the popular pastime of killing a rattlesnake or boulder in the front or back yards,
before breakfast, is less prevalent.

Mr. Robert von Saxmar is moving from Los Angeles in order to occupy the Gowen property at 1219 Viola avenue, under a lease. Mr. and Mrs.
von Saxmar collaborate in scenario
writing under contract with the Universal Film company and the William Fox studios. Mr. Saxmar states that they are now very busy working as a part of the staff engaged upon a tremendous subject, the magnitude of which will make such plays as "Intolerance," "The Fall of a Nation," etc., look like kindergarten productions. As an illustration of the many sided phases of their literary work mention was made of the acquiring of a fair sized library on Egyptology to supply the necessary working data on that subject. Mr.
Saxmar predicts that the movie magnates will eventually discover the studio advantages of the Glendale
district, and quietly drop down a million dollar plant in our midst some day. Big things are stirring in the national movie world, and large capital stands ready to back up promising propositions attracted by the big speculative possibilities that are the rewards of success. It is becoming more noticeable that atmospheric and dry soil conditions in the Glendale section are superior to those in Hollywood and elsewhere. This gentleman has been somewhat of a globe trotter, and discourses entertainingly of his experiences in various foreign countries and intimates a preference for the Yukon country, which sounds like heresy to a Californian.

Mr. Seymour D. Montgomery of 1621 Dryden street has returned from a trip to Mexico.

Mrs. Anna M. Carmen of North Central avenue has returned from a three months' visit in Illinois.
While in Chicago, she was laid up several weeks from the effects of the prolonged torrid waves in that city.

Changes have taken place in the personnel of the Espesero de Verdugo, effective November first. Mr.
Henry Freed retires from the company, having disposed of his interests to O. C. Logan, who transfers as a part of the deal his residence property, 809 Melrose avenue. Mr.

Freed has taken a position with the Economic Ice Machine company of Los Angeles. The Tropic branch of the Economic Ice Machine company will be moved to the large building at the corner of Central avenue and Stocker streets, which thereby puts Casa Verdugo on the map as a manufacturing center. Mr. Logan will devote his energies to expanding this business, starting with two orders for good sized outfits now in hand. To be conveniently near the factory, Mr. Logan and family moved into the dwelling at 1120
Viola avenue on Tuesday.

Mr. Ed Goetz, having returned from Colorado, is again at his old post of duty with the Espesero de Verdugo.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jumper of San Rafael street, who have spent the past year at Balboa, where Mr. Jumper's father is mayor of the town, have motored up to spend a couple of weeks in the rose gardens. They are full of interesting information regarding the good things in prospect for Balboa. The jetty bonds have just been voted, to provide funds for dredging the bay and improving the harbor. This will make a fine landlocked commercial seaport of Balboa
bay. There seems to be strong expectations that the United States Military Academy, planned to be the Pacific coast duplicate of the school at West Point, will be located on the island in the bay. Also there are numerous manufacturing enterprises bidding for locations in that community, one of the latest concerns
being a cotton mill.

The recently completed boulevard
along the coast affords easy access by auto now to the Newport section
from the north.

Not all of the family movements
are toward the foothills, however, Casa Verdugo will soon lose Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rees and son of 1117 San Rafael avenue, who will remove to a fine ranch, seventeen miles south of Riverside in the Perris valley recently purchased by Mr. Rees. With many years' residence in California,
Mr. Rees has had ranch experience,
and the lure of its attractions caused the disposal of his interests in the firm of Fosgate & Rees, Los Angeles, in order to devote his whole time to out door life. A departure of this family after a five years' residence in this community will be much regretted by all.

The Carlson grocery store formerly at 809 North Central avenue has closed out its stock and retired from business.

Hallowe'en pranks of the malicious variety were generally conspicuous by their absence this year hereabouts. But the roughhouse squad composed presumably of the lads whose upper lips have not yet surrendered to the safety razor, left their marks on La Ramada where the rustic signs hanging under the log arch to the drive way, were transported across the street. Other minor damage including the removal of the automatic scales some distance from its position under the arbor.

The county steam roller put the finishing touches Thursday on the substantial job of macadamizing done on Melrose avenue between Stocker and Dryden.

Much interest is being taken at present by the Glendale Foothills community in the formation of a civic center. A meeting of the community parents will be held Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Central avenue school house, under the auspices of the Central Avenue Parent-Teacher association, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of opening such a center. A great many parents are interested in having some place where meetings can be held for the good of the community and where various useful societies for the benefit of the boys and girls of the community can meet.

Miss Agnes Spott of Los Angeles
spent the week-end with her school friend, Miss Mabel Eckles, 1124
Viola avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yorba of Pasadena were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sowl, at the Spanish cave, Casa Verdugo, Sunday.

as to make this benefit a great suc-

BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB

Members of the Bird and Flower club to the number of seventeen made a pilgrimage to Eagle Rock park, Saturday, and enjoyed the wonders of nature to be found in that beautiful spot. Two of the members demonstrated some of the Boy Scout stunts, such as resuscitating a drowning person, which caused much amusement. Many different kinds of birds were discovered and the club
had such a good time that they hope to go to the same place next Saturday.
